

The Thinking Environment[®] Foundation Course

A two-day intensive course that equips you with the skills to transform interactions and generate superb connection, thinking & action. You will learn how to practically create thinking environments, by applying Nancy Kline's research, spanning over 30 years.

“The quality of every thing we do depends on the quality of the thinking we do first. The quality of our thinking depends on the way we treat each other while we are thinking.”

—
NANCY KLINE

Some of the key benefits...

Give people a structure to generate better ideas, solutions and decisions

Make diversity, inclusion, collaboration and creativity a reality

Have greater quality, productive working relationships

Create an environment where people feel valued and as a result will do their best work

The results from some of our Clients...

A saving of 62% of meeting time

A creative agency improved its industry ranking by 32%
in four months

A pharmaceutical company achieved a 44% reduction in their decision making costs

A research team saved a month's worth of work in a 30 minute discussion

“One of the trainings with the best ROI I have attended.
Easy to implement and immediate results.”

—
CONSULTANT, EGON ZEHNDER

Your Accredited Facilitators

THE THINKING FIELD

Candice Smith

Candice thrives on shifting the quality of human interaction and creating new stories for the future of work, people and planet. She was trained by the founder of the Thinking Environment methodology, Nancy Kline and is a Time To Think Faculty member.

She works with a range of organisations and individuals in contexts of societal change and transformation, and her organisational experience spans over two decades.

Contact Candice
+61 404 276 460 | candice@thethinkingfield.com | thethinkingfield.com

allofyou

Vanessa Porter

Vanessa's passion is helping clients carve out the time and space to focus on what really matters to them, their people and their stakeholders. She is an accredited Time To Think Facilitator and a member of the international Collegiate. Prior to establishing her own business, Vanessa held senior executive roles for major global companies, across industries and markets. These include McDonald's, Disney Stores (UK), Staging Connections, National Rugby League and the Australian Retailers Association.

Her focus has been cultivating positive workplace cultures and developing talent.

Contact Vanessa
+61 408 024 596 | vanessa@allofyou.co | allofyou.co

Secure your space now

Investment $1,875 (plus GST) Corporate
 $1,475 (plus GST) Non Corporate

For more course information, please contact either of us.
For more information on the Thinking Environment see www.timetothink.com/thinking-environment/