HR Leaders Around the Table

HR Leaders Around the Table

Experience a refreshing approach to professional development and peer support networking. Facilitated by a highly accomplished HR professional, HR Leaders Around the Table is an annual program featuring content driven by participants' learning needs, not a sales agenda.

In an environment of trust and deep mutual connection, our members share, challenge and learn from other HR leaders and guest speakers. Focused and robust conversation ensures that you will leave each session with useful insights, tactics and tools for building stronger people strategies.

Benefits

- Tap into a wealth of varied experiences and perspectives to enhance the quality of your strategic thinking and your leadership in implementing initiatives.
- Learn from carefully selected guest contributors who will share their innovative ideas, research and practices on topics identified by the group as being of utmost importance.
- Network with other HR leaders and build your HR community of practice.
- Designate time to think about your business's current and future needs.
- Accelerate your professional development.
- Enhance your strategic capability.

Who should attend

HR leaders who create and have accountability for the strategic people agenda, and influence across their business as a whole.
